Mulk Raj Anand was born in Peshawar in the year 1905 which saw the partition of India. He was an author with hundreds of novels, short stories, and essays to his name, one of the first Indian writers in English to gain the readership of international level. He was awarded the prestigious Padma Shri by the Indian government for his realistic and sympathetic portrayal of the poor in India.

Mulk Raj Anand is admired for his novels and short stories, and his short stories too focus on the plight of the marginalised and the downtrodden. Selected Short Stories, an anthology of his short stories, received critical acclaim and was a bestseller.

The lost child is the universality of a child's desire for everything that he claps his hands for. The story is a poignant reminder of the innocence and simplicity of children.
